

EL PASO PEOPLE FORM COMPANY

Development on Property in Rincon Hatch Basin
Is Planned.

A group of 25 El Paso business and professional men have organized the Rincon Hatch Oil Association for the development of large holdings, including about 17 sections of land west of Rincon, N. M., in the Hatch district. The following El Paso men were elected trustees: Dr. W. A. Allen, of Fort Bliss; W. M. Edwards, T. A. Thurston, W. W. Evans and H. E. De-mond.

The region is pronounced very promising for oil, geologists stating that it looks better even than the Tularosa basin. The trustees were given authority to sell, lease or develop the holdings as might seem most advantageous. They also declared they are in a region that is going to be a center of oil interest in the near future.

HAIR ON FACE WHAT CAUSES IT

It has been proven by the world's greatest authorities that it stimulates and increases hair growth to remove it from the surface of the skin. The only way to remove hair is to attack it under the skin. DeMicare, the original and only hair remover, does this by absorption. Only genuine DeMicare has a money-back guarantee in each package. At retail centers in El Paso, N. M., or by mail from New York.

Chapman No. 2 Flows At Rate Of 800 Barrels

Good Producer Developed
Northeast Of Eastland, Texas.

Eastland, Tex., June 11.—For a number of days interest has turned toward the Chapman No. 2, on the Wright tract, four and a half miles northeast of Eastland. It has just reached day at 2460 feet and is flowing at the rate of 800 barrels daily with a showing of some gas.

The Richard Texas has a fishing job on the Cotton track, a short distance north of Chapman. It is close to the line.

The Humble company's gusher on the Scott farm, two and a half miles east of Eastland, is flowing 110 barrels and is steadily increasing.

The Leon Oil company's No. 1 Allen, located a half mile west of the Chapman, was drilled in at 2465 feet the last of the week. It is flowing 300 barrels of oil and little gas.

The Magnolia company began pulling the casing at 2465 feet Saturday in the No. 3 Sue well, three miles east of Eastland. It is making a steady stream of moist vapor and looks like it may be a good producer.

The Schinnee well extends production 500 feet south of the Burk well. W. Daniel's No. 1 Brannon is expected to hit the sand this week. This is an interesting well, because, if a producer, it will extend the pool considerably.

OIL MEN FACE GAS PROBLEM

New Law Gives Commission Power to Conserve Supply.

Dallas, Tex., June 11.—This question now before the oil operators of Texas is, "How can we conserve gas?" This question is one of importance, since it has been shown that the waste of two days in the north Texas fields would be sufficient to supply six cities like El Paso with all of its suburbs for a whole year, including commercial and industrial consumption.

It is claimed by geologists and drillers that most of the gas was wasted by flowing into the air in the Texas fields is gas which comes from the same strata that produces oil. They say that it is impossible to save the gas and at the same time produce the oil. W. E. Wether, geologist of Dallas, who has from the start been studying the situation, says the waste is deplorable but under present conditions it is very evident that it is necessary to let the oil flow away in order to produce the oil.

Commission Given Authority.
The Texas legislature has passed a law regarding the conservation of oil and gas which will go into effect 90 days after adjournment of the regular session. This law gives the railroad commission authority to enforce its terms. It is generally understood that the commission will attempt to solve the problem. The pipe line expert of the commission has the right to attend to the enforcement of all the rules and regulations. He is allowed such penalties as may be necessary for carrying out his duties. The salary of the department may not exceed $3000 a year while that of the chief shall not be more than $2500 a year.

The law gives the commission sufficient power to enable it to carry out whatever scheme may develop for the conservation of the oil and gas that has been going to waste in northern Texas since the large wells came into production. The law also gives the commission authority to enforce its terms. It is generally understood that the commission will attempt to solve the problem. The pipe line expert of the commission has the right to attend to the enforcement of all the rules and regulations. He is allowed such penalties as may be necessary for carrying out his duties. The salary of the department may not exceed $3000 a year while that of the chief shall not be more than $2500 a year.

In the first paragraph of the act there is a limitation that may result in some litigation. In view of the deep sands in the north central Texas fields.

Oil Escapes First.
In a number of wells in this section it has been discovered that oil and gas both exist in the same stratum and where a well is drilled into the apex of the anticline it very often happens that oil will not flow until the gas is allowed to escape. A few wells have even been allowed to blow for two or three months, at the end of which time the oil began to flow. Since the gas is lighter than the oil it will naturally come to the top and it is then necessary for it to be displaced before the oil can flow.

In enforcing this conservation act the question will arise as to whether the sand shall be turned oil or natural gas stratum. The phrase in the law reads:

"The term waste, in addition to its ordinary meaning, shall include escape of natural gas in commercial quantities into the open air from a stratum recognized as a natural gas stratum, but this is not intended to have application to gas pockets in oil strata."

In Cleveland, a short time ago at a gas convention a report was made that the gas wells in the northern Texas fields amount to at least 2,000, 800,000 cubic feet per day.

OIL PRESSURE INCREASES IN WELL NEAR BALLINGER.

Ballinger, Texas, June 11.—With the boiling out of each bucket of oil in the Russell oil well, 15 miles east of here, the gas and oil pressure increased. Since the well was shut at 1500 feet the hole has been cleaned out and the drill is now more than 650 feet from the surface. The well went wild and shot over the derrick before the shot had exploded.

The status of other wells operating in this vicinity follows:
Wood-Nixon, contract closed; Lewis, location made; Safety First, derrick; Schultz, pulling casing; Beale, ready to spud in; Koneguy, building derrick; Sinclair, drilling at 1540 feet; Hinchey (McNary), ready to spud in; Poe-McNitt, ready to spud in; Parame, contract closed; Russell No. 2, building derrick; Nelson and Nelson, building derrick; Rowena, fishing for big at 1600 feet; Hightower, drilling at 1620 feet; Johnson, derrick up and machinery on ground.

Col. Heard is remembered here as having been attached to the Eighth cavalry when the regiment was at Fort Bliss.

CORNICANA COMPANY PLANS
SEVERAL NEW TEST WELLS

Coriaca, Texas, June 11.—The Cornicana Oil Well company is now considering plans for several new tests to be sunk in the northern section of Navarro county. This company is composed of El Paso citizens.

The Edwards Oil company's well has reached a depth of 210 feet. This well is located near Panton, in the western part of the county and was started just a short time ago.

The Cornicana Deep Well company's rig has been set up and will be started Wednesday. This well is located in the western part of the county in the Cornicana-Powell field.

DUKE OF DUBLIN IS IN OIL SAND

President Is Here to Meet His Stockholders—To Start Second Well.

Frank H. Grant, president of the Duke of Dublin Oil company, arrived in El Paso Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock. Mr. Grant is direct from the Burkburnett oil field, where his company brought in a 2500 barrel well in block 74, Sunday.

The sand was found at 1800 feet. Hope was given up of securing a well when the drill failed to find oil at between 1800 and 1700. The Duke of Dublin well is the deepest in this section and opened up a new sand in this district.

Mr. Grant is registered at Hotel Shannon and will be in the city for the next ten days. Mr. Grant is here to greet his stockholders, who number about 2000 in the Southwest, and who own about $65,000 of the Duke of Dublin stock.

Duke of Dublin was capitalized for $100,000 and besides the Burkburnett well, owns considerable acreage in the Duke-Knox field.

Mr. Grant announces that his company will probably pay a dividend within the next 15 days.

Monday we are going to start putting in our second well, which will be located within 30 yards of the 2500 barrel well," said Mr. Grant. "We are going to declare a dividend in 10 days."

Mr. Grant will be in El Paso until Saturday looking after the interests of the company.

Eastland's Best Gusher, Perkins Well, Flowing 11,000 Barrels Day

EASTLAND, Texas, June 11.—Eastland county's biggest gusher in its history, the Perkins well, four miles north of here, though not yet completed, is flowing 11,000 barrels per day. Owing to insufficient pipe lines, completion is delayed.

The Sinclair company has reached the well with a line and the Prairie Oil and Gas company is hurrying construction of two lines to it.

Santa Barbara Plans Big Festival In July

Santa Barbara, Calif., June 11.—Francis H. Greene has been selected director general of the big independence week celebration, which will be held in Santa Barbara the first five days in July. A director of purchases for the New York Central railroad, prior to coming to the Mission City, Greene had charge of expenditures aggregating a hundred million dollars annually. Therefore, he is accustomed to doing things on a large scale.

One of the biggest features will be the coming of the Pacific fleet from San Diego, under rear admiral W. H. Fullam. A comprehensive display of "land birds" and "flying boats" is being arranged. One of the novel stunts in prospect is the stripping and assembling of a hydroplane "cat" that is aboard one of the warships that will be in the channel. The aerial boat patrol will stop off here, too.

Santa Barbara's past and present will be illustrated in an elaborate procession of floats covering the four centuries that have elapsed from the picturesque mission days down to the modern age.

The Santa Barbara athletic club will conduct a three-days' meet of boxing and wrestling for the entertainment of the visiting sailors. There will also be golf and tennis tournaments, polo matches, and stunt contests, acrobatics and gymnastics, street dancing on the esplanade, a children's woodland fête, reception to the British band concert, and other interesting events.
